This group meets to look at issues around user and carer participation in research. The focus is on NHS research but it also covers Social Care research.

This meeting had three main issues. There was a lot of discussion around NHS Research Passports and the impact on user researchers, initial feedback from a survey of NHS R&D Managers on user involvement and discussion around a major workshop to be held at the end of November around what funding bodies actually mean by user involvement in research.

The next meeting has been set for October 2007. More information can be found at: www.rdforum.nhs.uk
